

Relationship between Local/Tribal Emergency Operation Plan (EOP) and the National Response Plan (NRP)

In the local/tribal EOPs, significant responsibilities common to emergencies and disasters are grouped into nine (9) areas, called functional annexes. The NRP has fifteen (15) functional areas called Emergency Support Functions (ESFs). The relationship between the local/tribal EOPs and the national plan are outlined on the chart below.

The following are the fifteen (15) Emergency Support Functions (ESF) in the NRP:
